WHO ARE WE EDUCATING?

PROVERBS 30:11-14

“‘Gen Z’ are the 69-70 million children born between 1999 and 2015. They are now entering college. According to Impact 360, they are ‘the least Christian and most racially, religiously, and sexually diverse generation in American history.’ Although they are a generation still taking shape, 13 percent identify as atheists, compared to six percent of all adults. This figure is nearly double that of Millennials (seven percent).”

According to the Pew Research Center, students today put technology into the same category as “air and water.” In short, they believe: “I must have it to survive.” The same report reveals that college students would rather give up their “pinky finger” than their cell phone. Wow. That’s quite a trade-off, don’t you think? What’s more, teens interact with romantic partners “most digitally” and 31 percent have been the recipient of a boyfriend/girlfriend “breaking up with them in a text.”
